INTERACTIVE SESSIONS

DRUMMING FOR WELLBEING

Explore the impact of drumming and percussion on mood and its potential applications with young people. There will be a session for the whole audience and an optional session during lunch involving large drums.

MEDITATION CRASH COURSE

Learn a simple, enjoyable meditation technique with scientifically proven benefits. An essential life skill to build resilience and reduce stress – both for you and the young people you care for.

FILMS BY YOUNG PEOPLE

Watch films made by young people about their experiences of mental health and wellbeing challenges and how they have coped with the assistance of programs, resources and professionals who care.

The Corporate Takeover of Childhood

Maggie Hamilton, Author and Researcher

Corporations now use the same techniques as sexual predators to gain the hearts, minds and spending power of our kids. Discover the methods they're now using to get to our young people, to ensure they spend up big. What are the consequences for this new generation? And how can we turn this exploitation of our children around?

Protecting Children Against Online Predators

Det Sgt Stuart Butler, Taskforce Argos, Queensland Police

Get a factual insight into the world of the online Child Sex Offender. Be prepared to be confronted by some shocking New Zealand case studies which show how online predators operate and target children on the internet. Stuart will help you understand how some simple security measures can be effective in reducing the risk to children when they are online.

Getting our Kids from I can't to I can

Diane Levy, Family Therapist and Author

Diane will show us how to get children off a discouraging, downward spiral that starts with 'I can't' and has the potential to finish with 'What's the use?'. Instead, she will show us instantly useable, practical ways get our children from 'I can't' to 'I can', ultimately leading to 'I'm great and the world is mine for the taking!'

Child Beauty Pageants

Collett Smart, Psychologist and Teacher, Collective Shout and Family Smart

Child beauty pageants are a new and concerning development in New Zealand. Pageant organisers use a number of arguments about the benefits to justify their events – but do they stack up? Many professionals and researchers are concerned about the effect these events have, not only the psychological and emotional development of children that participate but also on the wider community in which they occur and are promoted. It's time to get informed!

The Three Things that Anyone Who Works with Young People Needs to Know

Nigel Latta, Clinical Psychologist, Goldfish Wisdom

In this session Nigel will tell you the three most important things we've learned about young people in the last one hundred years. Science has discovered all kinds of interesting things in the last century and sometimes it's hard to know what's important and what's not. In this session Nigel will clear up a debate which has raged for two thousand years, and show a picture of a very angry cat. (Includes language that may offend some people – but will nevertheless entertain and inform the rest.)

Violent Video Games and Violent Behaviour

Dr Wayne Warburton, Lecturer in Developmental Psychology, Macquarie University

Children's brains wire up at a furious rate, and things they experience a lot can have a lasting impact on the way they think, feel and behave. In this talk we will examine some of the ways in which playing violent video games can impact children. Contrary to popular opinion, the jury is not out. Excessive exposure to violent video games is consistently linked with aggressive behaviour, desensitisation to violence, and a reduction in helpful and pro-social behaviours. This talk will conclude with some practical advice to professionals who work with children – things you can do on 'Monday morning' that will make a difference.

Caring for Kids in an Online World

Susan McLean, Cybersafety Expert

Cyber-bullying and Sexting...words that put fear into those who work or care for young people. Things that were unknown 15 years ago are now highly problematic for the health and wellbeing of all young people. What are kids doing online? Where are they going? What are the 'facts' about the latest sites kids are using to bully and harass others? You will learn all this and more in this entertaining and educational session on the reality of cyber-bullying and sexting.

Meditation in Schools

Chris Marshall, Teacher, Year 12 Dean, Henderson High School

There are many strategies aimed at improving and protecting mental wellbeing but few are as easy and effective as meditation. Separate the fact from fiction, the evidence for its effectiveness in young people followed by a practical session with an evidence-based mental silence skill.
